S P Setia honoured at BCI Asia's Awards 2018 for the eighth time

KUALA LUMPUR: S P Setia Bhd, Malaysia's leading property developer was once again awarded the prestigious Top Ten Award at the BCI Asia Top Ten Developers Award 2018, a recognition it has garnered for eight consecutive years since 2011. Successfully placed among the most sought after awards for the Asian building and design industry and held in seven Asian territories, the Top Ten Awards recognises developers as well as architecture firms with the highest value portfolios of projects during the last full calendar year.

Held last Friday evening, the ceremony was officiated by Housing and Local Government Minister Zuraida Kamaruddin. Present to receive the award was S P Setia executive vice-president Datuk Kow Choong Ming who accepted the honour from Dr Matthias Krups, chairman and chief executive officer of BCI Asia.

"For more than a decade, BCI Asia has identified top developers that have shaped the built environment not only in Malaysia, but all over Asia, to the dynamic landscape we have today," said Kow. "S P Setia is proud to be recognised as a trendsetter and trailblazer in the property development industry here in Malaysia," he added.

The BCI Asia Top Ten Awards is bestowed on the architecture and developer firms with the greatest aggregate value of projects during the last full calendar year as weighted by the extent of their sustainability. BCI research monitors and registers any accredited green building certification associated with a project, leading to projects with a green building certification receiving a higher rating. Hence, developers with a greater portfolio of sustainable projects like S P Setia made it into the top 10.

"We will continue to hold steadfast to our vision which is 'To Be The Best In All We Do' and we are truly proud that the Setia brand today is synonymous with strength, reliability and the value creation that we bring to all our developments," Kow commented. S P Setia's projects, especially its affordable apartments, have garnered the attention of many industry awards which recognise the quality of these projects and the value they provide to purchasers.

Team S P Setia are all smiles after being honoured at BCI Asia's Top Ten Awards 2018 for the eighth time.
